Who we are

Eko Estates builds and sells villas in the Western Ghats. The team behind it has spent 8 years running holiday homes for guests, and that experience shapes every house we put up for sale.

We know which rooms a group actually uses, where people gather in the evening, and what a house needs to stay in good order through a Ghats monsoon. Those lessons are in the plan before the first wall is built.

Once the house is yours, we can go on running it for you under a contracted rental agreement, or simply keep it ready for the days you want it to yourself.

About Igatpuri

Igatpuri is a small hill town at about six hundred metres, on the crest of the Sahyadri where the Kasara ghat tops out onto the Nashik plateau. The air is cooler than on the coast, the monsoon comes early and stays long, and by August the valleys around the town are green from one ridge to the next.

It is best known for Dhamma Giri, one of the largest Vipassana meditation centres in the world, founded here in 1976, and for the reservoirs and waterfalls that fill every rainy season. Since June 2025 the Samruddhi Mahamarg has run from Thane to Igatpuri, passing beneath the ghat through a tunnel almost eight kilometres long.

The Samruddhi Mahamarg

Six lanes from Thane, with an interchange at Igatpuri and the Kasara ghat taken underground.

Trimbakeshwar and Nashik

The Simhastha Kumbh Mela opens on 31 October 2026, with its main bathing days in August and September 2027.

Bhandardara

Arthur Lake, the Wilson Dam of 1910, and Kalsubai, the highest peak in Maharashtra.

Villa Monaco

Five bedrooms in two quiet wings, joined by one great room twelve metres long with glass on both sides.

Villa Monaco is the house for people who like to have everyone together, and then have somewhere to go.

Together means the great room: twelve metres of living, dining and kitchen under one roof, with glass that folds away on both sides. Breakfast on one deck, lunch on the other, and a long table in between that seats the whole party. Just outside, a sunken seating pit by the pool is the warmest spot in the house once the sun goes down.

Somewhere to go means the wings. Five bedrooms, each with its own bathroom, are split two and three on either side of the great room, so the house sleeps two families with room to spare and real quiet between them. And when you want the view to yourself, a staircase takes you to a private deck on the roof, above the trees, looking out over the valley.

It is freehold, at Kawnai near Igatpuri, three hours from Mumbai. Live in it yourself, all year round. Or hand it to us and let us host it while a contracted rental is credited to you every month.

Outdoors

Open them up and the room becomes a covered pavilion, with a deck on either side and the breeze moving straight through. Out by the pool, a sunken seating pit with curved built-in seating is where evenings end up. And a staircase leads to a private deck on the roof, the highest point of the house: watching the cloud roll across the valley in the monsoon, or the stars come out on a clear winter night.

Built on 33% of the plot

2,298 sq ft built up, 4,632 sq ft open

Living, dining and kitchen

Villa Monaco is built around one room. Living, dining and kitchen run together for twelve metres through the centre of the house, with folding glass along both long sides.

Kitchen

Fully equipped, open to the dining table

To do indoors

Home Theatre, Indoor Games

Bedrooms

The bedrooms sit in two wings on either side of it, two to the west and three to the east. Each wing feels like its own house, so a family can take one and their friends the other, and nobody hears anybody after midnight.

Finally, a second home that is also a sound investment.

Who said a good investment has to be boring?

Contracted rental yield	Credited	Fixed for	Owner nights
10% p.a.	Monthly, by the 10th	48 months, in writing	24 a year, about two a month

Under the Assured Agreement. Owner nights are weekday nights; weekends and peak dates are excluded.

How the rental compares

A house in the hills you will want to use, with a rental yield well above what property usually delivers.

Residential property, India Typical gross rental yield; about 2–3% in Mumbai		about 3%
Commercial property, India Typical gross rental yield		5–7%
Villa Monaco, Assured Agreement Contracted, for the 48-month term		10% p.a.

Assured Agreement

We run the house. 10% p.a. of the purchase price is credited monthly by the 10th, occupied or empty, fixed for 48 months, with 24 owner nights a year.

Private Use

The house is yours all 365 nights, with no fixed rental and no lock-in. We can keep it ready for you with paid facility management.

Market figures are typical gross rental yields for Indian property: residential about 2–3%, commercial about 5–7%. They vary by city, property and date, and are shown for comparison only. The villa figure is the contracted rate under the Assured Agreement, as a percentage of the purchase price, for the stated term; its terms are those in the signed agreement.

About this brochure

This brochure was generated from the property record held by Eko Estates on 29 October 2026. It is for information only and is not an offer or a contract. The terms of any purchase, and of any agreement for the running of the house, are those in the documents you sign.

Monthly, annual and full-term amounts are calculated from the purchase price, the rate in force and the term on the date of generation. The rate that applies to you is the one written into your agreement on the date you sign it.

Photographs are of this property unless captioned otherwise, and may be cropped to fit the page. Furniture and styling may differ from what is included in the sale; the inclusions are listed in the agreement.

Areas are as recorded for the property. Travel times and distances are approximate, by road from the property gate. Descriptions of the area are for general interest and form no part of any agreement.

Title, NA conversion and certificates are as recorded on the date of generation. Copies are available on request.
